ZAPATA'S FORCES FIRST TO ENTER MEXICO CITY

BLANCO WITHDRAWS FROM CAPITAL AFTER SCUTTLING RAILWAY

Washington, Nov. 25.—General Blanco left Mexico City at 3 a. m. yesterday and the forces of Zapata immediately took possession of the city. Blanco, after repeated assurances to the diplomatic corps that he would not evacuate the city, withdrew and immediately the Zapata forces began their entry. These facts were reported today in official telegrams received by the state department.

Although communication with Mexico City is difficult, officials here were able to get in touch with their representatives in the capital and no disturbances have been officially reported. Blanco took away with him all rolling stock that could be used in transporting troops. Most of the wires connecting the capital with the outside world have been cut.

General Villa's troops are reported a few miles north of Mexico City and officials here think a joint occupation of the capital with the Zapata forces is likely, as there is a complete understanding between the two factions.

Villa Closing On Tampico

The forces of Villa, according to official telegrams, are closing in on Tampico from San Luis Potosi and already have reached the oil fields in the vicinity of Tampico. The Villa advance guard has given assurances that the foreign oil interests will be protected.

Recent reports from state department agents who have been in touch with Zapata led officials here to believe the southern chief would maintain order in the city.

Conflicting Advice From Mexico

Washington, Nov. 25.—Conflicting advice under uncertain communication with Mexico City caused doubt and apprehension today over what actually was occurring in the Mexican capital.

A first official dispatch dated early yesterday said General Blanco had abandoned the city and that the Zapata forces were entering. Then, a later dispatch dated 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon said that while General Blanco was not to be found, he was still reported to be somewhere in the capital, while his troops, however, were evacuating and taking property as they left.

The Zapata forces were then reported on the outskirts of the city and it was understood that they were in agreement with the Villa forces not to enter the capital until the latter arrived.

This, the latest official dispatch pointed out, was uncertain, however, though the Brazilian minister had received assurances from the Zapata chiefs that they would preserve order and give every protection to foreigners.

Later word came that the telegraph had been interrupted south of Juarez, thereby cutting off communication between Washington and American consular agents at Aguas Calientes and George C. Carothers, who is with General Villa.

1914 Crop Yield Is Larger Than Average With Prices Lower

Washington, Nov. 25.—Although preliminary estimates of crop production this year indicate that the aggregate per acre yields of all crops will be about 9.4 per cent larger than last year's yield, and about 2.3 per cent larger than their 10-year average, they still will be smaller by nearly five per cent than the 1912 record.

Large crop yield, according to the department of agriculture today, is due to the fact that the total production of corn this year, it is estimated, will be about 10.6 per cent larger than that of last year; the wheat crop 16.8 per cent; oats 1.6 per cent; barley 10.3 per cent; buckwheat 23.1 per cent; potatoes 22.6 per cent; sweet potatoes 5.1 per cent; smaller; hay 7 per cent; larger; and apples above 78 per cent, larger.

Notwithstanding increased production prices which producers are receiving for grain crops are somewhat higher than received from last year's crops. There has, however, been a decline in

Statue Dedicated To Franklin Pierce

Concord, N. H., Nov. 25.—Forty-four years after his death, the memory of Franklin Pierce, the only New Hampshire man ever elected President of the United States, was honored today by the dedication of a memorial statue in the state house.

VIOLATION OF NEUTRALITY ON THE PART OF COLOMBIA BRINGS FIRM DEMAND FROM THE ALLIES

London, Nov. 25 (4:10 p. m.)—Great Britain and France have appealed to the United States to exercise its good offices to compel Colombia to observe more strictly the requirements of neutrality. Otherwise the allies, it was announced in the house of commons today, may be compelled in self defense to take whatever measures they deem necessary for protection of their interests.

U.S. WANTS TO KNOW WHY TURKEY HOLDS UP CODE MESSAGES

Washington, Nov. 25.—The United States is inquiring of Turkey about reported action of the Porte in refusing transmission to code dispatches between neutral diplomats in Constantinople and their home offices. Such an action would prevent ambassador Morgenthau from communicating with Washington in the state department code. News of Turkey's reported action comes through the cable companies and so far there has been no official notice served upon the state department by any authorized agents of the Turkish government. The United States will insist upon its right of free communication with its diplomatic representatives as long as telegraphic and cable lines are open to general use, or in fact, workable. There is always the implied understanding that such message shall be strictly neutral and not be the means of conveying any information of military value.

Nothing has been heard today from Ambassador Morgenthau in response to a request for a detailed account of the circumstances attending the firing upon the cruiser Tennessee's launch by Turkish forts at Smyrna on November 17 last and it is supposed that he has been delayed by difficulty in communicating with Consul General Horton at Smyrna.

Charles Spears will spend Thanksgiving with relatives in Aberdeen.

BRITISH TROOPS IN EGYPT ARE DEFEATED BY TURKISH FORCES

Berlin, Nov. 25 (by wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—The British Indian troops along the Suez canal have been defeated, according to a report from Milan, and the Turks are advancing with heavy batteries to destroy the constructive works of the canal and bottle up the British warships now in the waterway.

GERMAN TEMPORARY NAVAL BASE SMASHED BY SHELLS OF ALLIES

London, Nov. 25—12:15 p. m.—The destruction of Germany's rudimentary naval base at Zebrugga by shell fire from British and French warships, together with Germany's grim preparations for her renewed attempts to smash a way through the allied line to the French coast, were the most significant features in the news coming to hand today from the western arena of the war.

In the east the situation as regards the Russian and German armies in Poland remains a little obscure. The Germans, on the other hand, are not denying that the advance of Gen. von Hindenburg has been checked, while the Russian war office, on the other hand issues an extended statement claiming a decisive victory.

With the smashing of the submarines which the Germans had been so laboriously assembling at Zebrugga the allied fleet has been removed from that point on the coast. It is now felt that there is little danger of an undersea attack and in addition all news dispatches received from the other side of the channel, it is apparent that the damage inflicted by the fire of the warships at Zebrugga was far more extensive than was at first supposed.

Similar reports received in London set forth that Germans have already started another attack upon the allied front in Flanders, which will be more intense and formidable than any hitherto undertaken.

Columbus, Nov. 25.—Edward Leibold, aged 38, of Sandusky county, serving a 12-year sentence in the Ohio penitentiary for burglary, received the Thanksgiving pardon from Governor Cox, it was announced at the executive offices today. Leibold is an expert musician. He was sentenced in April, 1908.

Since his imprisonment Leibold has taken continuous "long distance" care of his three children kept in a children's home at Norwalk. He was pardoned on condition that he abstain from intoxicating liquors.

During the investigation of Leibold's case by the state board of pardons, his wife was the only person to enter a protest against clemency for him.

RELATIVES SURPRISED AT THE MISFORTUNE OF GIRL

The word from Cleveland that Mrs. Daisy Barklow-McKnight was in the custody of juvenile authorities there was the first knowledge the girl's relatives here had that she was in that city.

According to the message received by the Portsmouth police Mrs. McKnight, who is but 18 years old and very pretty, was caught in a raid upon a house of questionable repute and her condition was such that she had to be sent to a hospital for treatment. Three men are under arrest in connection with her case.

Mrs. McKnight left Portsmouth about eight weeks ago going to Columbus with her brother, Elmer Barklow, who both secured employment in a motion picture theatre. After spending a short time there she drifted to Cleveland. She was last employed here as a pianist and soloist at the Arcana theatre.

The parents of the young girl are separated. The father William Barklow, is said to be living somewhere in the East End, while the mother is at present at the home of another daughter at Pond Run. She will be communicated with by other relatives Thursday in an effort to learn her wishes with respect to the girl.

TELLS ABOUT THE MOST POPULAR SONG IN WORLD

The interesting little talk of "Tipperary," the most popular song of the day, was so much enjoyed at Monday's meeting of The Musical Society, that The Times felt it would be of general interest, and asked Mrs. Draper to reproduce in today's paper, which she kindly consented to do. Her address was as follows:

"I want to tell you of the most popular song in the world today, and one that is being sung at this hour by thousands of brave soldiers, to the tramp of marching feet, in unhappy France. It is not a classic, nor has it any of the martial characteristics, which we are accustomed to associate with a war song, but it is simply an old little love song with the strange title, 'It's a Long Way to Tipperary.' A little Irish ballad with common-place words, and the simplest kind of a melody, which the British soldiers heard in the music halls of London during the summer, and when the war began, carried with them to the continent. It completely captured the hearts of the allies, with the result that they never tire of singing as they march, the fascinating refrain:

"It's a long way to Tipperary,
It's a long way to go,
It's a long way to Tipperary,
To the sweetest girl I know,
Goodbye, Piccadilly,
Farewell, Leicester Square!
It's a long, long way to Tipperary,
But my heart's right there!"

It is sung with the Irish brogue, with the Scotch burr—the cockney catch, and the English elision. It's been sung by thousands of broken-hearted women at home—whose tears fall thick and fast upon the grey socks they are knitting for the far-away "soldier boy." (For them, it is, indeed, "a long, long way to Tipperary.") But wherein lies the charm of this quaint song for the soldiers? What can it be, but the fact that there is something in it which tells them of home, and love, and peace, now so far from all of them. And how many pictures are being hung forever along the line of its lifting refrain! Pictures tinted with yellow-grey Khaki and splashed with vivid scarlet, shaded with dark turtan, and set to the tramp of marching feet!—A shrinking young girl, accompanied by a British officer, is walking down one of the streets of London, the Belgian colors—red, black and orange, are draped across her simple white frock. Mutely the child holds out a little tin box to the staring crowd, for she speaks not a word of English, and is soliciting alms for the starving, homeless Belgians—a pause—and then a sturdy voice sings out, "It's a long way to Tipperary." At once the coins commence to rattle thick and fast in the little box. The passer-by has been given "Tipperary!"

The scene changes!—A company of raw recruits are coming down the street, hundreds strong. Men uncover, and women weep. They march in unskilled, wavering lines, with no martial music to inspire them!—But listen! there is music in the air—a quaint little song is upon every lip, a heart-healing line, with its sweet message. Softly, and from far-away, floats the comforting refrain—the song which needs no interpretation.

"It's a long, long way to Tipperary,
It's a long way to go."

At the close of the talk, the song was sung with fine effect by Mrs. Wells A. Hutchins, with Mrs. Draper at the piano.

Arcanum Meeting Was Big Success

The social meeting arranged by McPherson Council, Royal Arcanum, Tuesday evening, proved a grand success, and was greatly enjoyed by all those fortunate to be present. The guests were cordially welcomed by officers of the Council. Refreshments were served under the direction of the entertainment committee in the banquet hall adjoining the lodge room.

Interesting impromptu addresses by several of the members and guests followed the banquet, and all were loathe when the time came to depart for their homes.

The next meeting of McPherson Council will be held on the evening of December 8, which is also the occasion for the annual election of officers, an event which always brings out a large attendance. Interest in the election will be increased this year on account of the contest for some of the important offices.

FACE A SIGHT WITH ERUPTION RESINOL CURED

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 5, 1913: "I had a small pimple on the side of my face, and it kept getting larger and larger. It had spread over one cheek, and as it would spread under water, I would wash it every place the water would touch, another sore would form. It itched and burned and my face was a sight. I used several salves and ointments that were recommended, but none helped, until I tried Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, which relieved me at once, and after using it about two weeks, my face was entirely clear. I cannot praise Resinol enough." (Signed) Mrs. Rosa Muller, 1313 Snyder Ave.

Physicians have prescribed Resinol for nineteen years and every druggist sells Resinol Soap (25c.) and Resinol Ointment (50c. and $1.). Don't be deceived by the useless "imitations." For free trial, write to Dept. K35, Resinol, 241 N. 2nd St.

NEW DEAL IS ON FOR NEW HOTEL

J. G. Leonard, of Chicago, is the latest person to undertake the move of providing Portsmouth with a modern uptown hotel.

Mr. Leonard, who is a general representative for Julius Kessler & Co., distillers of Chicago, had a conference with the owners of the owners of the Grand Opera house property Tuesday evening and the price was agreed upon it is claim. Meanwhile efforts will be made to deal with the other adjoining owners in the district recently devastated by fire with a view to securing an option on the whole strip of ground.

Mr. Leonard claims to be in touch with eastern capitalists and believes he can swing the deal that will have as its aim the erection of a fine European plan hotel of from 100 to 150 rooms with first class restaurant, Turkish baths and all that go towards making a strictly up-to-date hotel.

Mr. Leonard regards Portsmouth as the coming city of Ohio and says a hotel such as he contemplates would put Portsmouth ahead 25 years.

Zeigler Saloon Is To Change Hands

Only the approval of the county liquor licensing board delays the final negotiations of a deal through which the J. B. Zeigler saloon at 316 Chillicothe street, passes into the hands of Charles Motte and Edward Treat. The other details of the deal were closed Wednesday morning by the prospective owners and Charles Zeigler, son of the present owner, who is convalescing from a protracted illness at the home of his son in Gary, Ind.

Application for a transfer of the license to Motte and Treat was made Wednesday morning by the younger Zeigler, which must be advertised for ten days before the board can make a decision. No objection is likely to be made to the transfer.

Motte is at present employed as bartender and manager of the place, while Treat has been engaged in the grocery business on Front street. It will be his first venture in the liquor business. The proposed consideration was not made public.

TOLD TO MIND HER OWN BUSINESS

Harry Bliss was put on the police carpet Tuesday evening on complaint of a Miss Huston, who said she was the young man's aunt. She said he had threatened her because she objected to him keeping company with a certain girl named Lizzie and reported that he was in a habit of abusing his mother. The mother was sent for and denied that her son had ever mistreated her, whereupon Bliss was dismissed and Miss Huston told to mind her own business.

My stomach became sour, I had gas, and would belch up my food. My indigestion was so bad that I could not sleep without waking a dozen times in the night, often with gastric pain. My breath was very bad. I used many remedies supposed to be good, but got no relief until after I had used Peruna. Then my recovery began, and while it was slow it was sure. I am therefore now than pleased to recommend Peruna for all intestinal ailments. I am sure that it will cure them."

Kids Play "War"—One Hurt

Miniature warfare between youthful supporters of the Germans and the Allied forces last Sunday morning resulted in a painful injury to the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gilbert of 1824 Fifth street, three stitches being required to close up a flesh wound on his head.

Five pseudo German soldiers, of which young Gilbert was one, were set upon by ten of the Allies, lump coal being the implements of warfare.

One of the lumps struck the lad on the head, inflicting the wound referred to. Eye witnesses of the encounter relate that the Germans held their ground nobly, despite the injury to one of their number.

When it's hard to straighten up quickly and there's a "crick-in-your-back" and every joint and muscle in your body aches and you have that "don't care" feeling, ask your druggist for a bottle of Hoff's German Liniment. This famous liniment, made from the same formula as the doctors use with such success in Germany. It is pure and white as snow and it won't soil the finest clothes.

Avoid disappointment by not taking "something just as good."

REAR END TRAGEDY

Washington, Nov. 25.—The commissioners of the District of Columbia recently received a complaint that one of the street crossing policemen was wearing a pair of trousers with a defective seat.

In view of the fact that the policeman was required to stand, and, therefore, the condition of that portion of his apparel did not materially interfere with the efficient discharge of his duty, the commissioners were not inclined to regard the complaint with seriousness.

Nevertheless, in the interest of proper discipline, they referred it to the police department for investigation, and were informed that the complainant must have been afflicted with visual defect, as the complaint was totally without foundation.

In view of the discrepancy and the report of the police department the commissioners deemed it to be advisable to submit the matter to Joseph W. Folk, chief counsel of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Mr. Folk returned it to the board "with the suggestion that, while the act to regulate commerce covers defective seats on railroad trains, it has no application to the rear end of a street crossing officer's trousers."

Implacable Foe Of 'Poultry Trust' Shot On N. Y. Streets

New York, Nov. 25.—The assassination of Bernard Buff, characterized by Coroner Feinberg as the culmination of the greatest conspiracy since the murder of Herman Rosenthal, placed a real murder mystery in central office today for solution.

The victim, well to do independent poultry dealer, was lured to his death by a decoy message given him at 6 o'clock last night by a young man who entered his place of business in Washington market. Two shots, fired in the street, killed him. Two men darted away to a waiting automobile. Going over Buff's past life in a quest of clues, detectives learned that he had been threatened many times with violent death since he had testified for the state in a trial that sent members of New York City's poultry trust to prison several years ago. In a relentless campaign waged by his enemies, fires had been lighted, bombs exploded, his horses poisoned, his son attacked, and his chain of stores robbed. One of his neighbors was killed by a gunman, in mistake, it was believed for Buff.

Washington, Nov. 25.—A decrease of 7.1 per cent in the level of prices paid American producers for the principal crops during October is noted by the department of agriculture today. Exclusive of cotton the decline was 6.1 per cent. For the past 6 years the price level has decreased during October 4.3 per cent.

The department attributes two causes for the unusual decline this year: first, to steady improvement in prospective yields during

Rioting in Mexico City

Mexico City, Nov. 24 (delayed).—Serious disorder occurred in the capital tonight when a mob gathered in front of the national palace. Later they marched to stores where arms and ammunition were kept, battered down the doors and sacked the places of their contents. There was much shooting but thus far, according to reports, the casualties are few.

The police were powerless as the few who remained to guard the city were stripped of their arms by the mob.

Later in the evening a mob, which had been constantly growing, broke up into smaller bodies and the looting of pawn shops and other establishments in various sections of the city was begun.

The trouble began at six o'clock in the evening and at a late hour still continued. All street car traffic was stopped except the Red Cross service which was taking care of dead and wounded brought in from the fighting around Tacubaya.

At eight o'clock bodies of civilians and former federal soldiers were formed. They paraded the principal streets and marched to police headquarters and the Brazilian legation where they are armed. It was hoped that this force eventually would be able to control the situation.

OKLAHOMA VILLAGE IN FIRE ZONE

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 25.—News was eagerly awaited here today from the town of Woods, in the fire-swept district of Southern Oklahoma, where a change in the wind was reported to have driven the flames from the burning forests toward the town. The telegraph system of the Oklahoma Pipe Line company is the only means of communication with the Kimblish mountain region, where the fires have been raging fiercely for three days.

When the last word came from Woods, the fires were within four miles of the town, sweeping toward it down the heavily wooded mountain side. The Kimblish river, a stream thirty feet wide, offered the only protection, and employees of the pipe line company hastily organized and went to cut down timber in the path of the flames.

A hundred yards from the river stood two 25,000 barrel tanks containing large quantities of oil. Near these tanks stood the $10,000 plant of the pipe line company and around it were grouped the buildings of the town.

Inadequate Saving Apparatus Blamed For Loss of 52 Lives

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—Inadequate protection of commerce on the Pacific coast, emphasized two days ago by Secretary of Commerce Redfield as having caused the drowning of thirty-one persons in one instance recently, has cost the lives of 21 persons believed to have perished yesterday on the schooner Hamaiki, life-saving officials said today.

Veteran life-savers, including Captain J. L. Nottor, of the Point Bonita life-saving station, whose men picked up thirteen survivors, asserted that if the government had not neglected to rebuild an old life-saving station at Bolinas after it burned, no one need have been drowned from the wrecked schooner. Despite the fog, Captain Nottor said, rescue would have been possible, but for the hours consumed in getting life-saving crews and apparatus moved from San Francisco bay.

Forty-two of the sixty-three persons known to have been on board the Hamaiki were rescued.

JUDGE MIDDLETON AND PIKE COUNTY

In charging a grand jury in Pike county a few days ago, Judge William H. Middleton took occasion to review conditions he alleges obtain in that county, and to make some pertinent comments as to why they have not been remedied by grand jury probes. In doing so he frankly stated that the chief difficulty was that public sentiment in Pike county was inclined to overlook law breaking rather than to support officials in the enforcement of law and the punishment of the guilty.

As reported by the Pike County Republican-Herald, Judge Middleton, in his charge said among other things:

"Now gentlemen, this is probably the last charge that I shall ever give to a grand jury in this county, and in looking back over the administration of this court for the past sixteen years, I want to say to you frankly that it is a matter of regret to me that we have not been more successful in stamping out some of the things of this county that I think are ruining not only our morals, but our business as well, and I am going to tell you some of the reasons why we are not successful. In the first place, it is impossible to secure men on the grand jury in this county who are in sympathy with the prosecution of such cases. That may be strange language coming from the bench, but I want to say these things now because I think that the people in general ought to know something about the situation. You can set it down, gentlemen, as an infallible rule, that you cannot enforce laws that do not have behind them a strong public sentiment. If you go into any community and undertake to enforce through the jury system any law that hasn't the public sentiment behind it, you will fail every time. Now that is the trouble in Pike county over these election cases. Men come to the court and say, 'Now why don't you stop this?' Now the court has been willing for fifteen or sixteen years to stop it but the people themselves are not willing to stop it and unless the people themselves in this county make up their minds that they are going to stamp out the corruptions of the elections in Pike county, it will continue."

"I want you to remember that, and I will say for the benefit of the people who are present here in this court, that had it not been for the fact that the prosecuting attorney in the grand jury room in Adams county, confronted a witness who denied at first knowledge of wrong, with the witness's own written statement of the money he had spent, there never would have been any revolution in Adams county. But where the law is once broken—where a grand jury once gets a single case, the rest comes easily because that case is usually connected with others."

"There is just one thing that is keeping Pike county back and that is this continuous corrupt political fight going on in the county. Men cannot progress in a business way who devote half their time to politics, and a good portion of it to corrupt politics. The people in this county should say, 'This thing has gone far enough, and we are going to stop it. We are going to stop it for the good of the business interests of the county if for no other reason. We are going to make this county prosper.'"

"We had a comparatively quiet election here but I do not think there is any one so foolish as to believe that it was conducted with due respect to the law in every particular. I do not think there is a man who has any knowledge of such things who would undertake to say that there was no corruption of voters and no money illegally spent. It was not like it has been in former years, but still it was bad enough."

Supt. John Lynn, of the water works force, reports that the number of breaks in service mains over town due to increased pressure have been few compared to what might have been expected. What breaks have occurred have been speedily taken care of and Mr. Lynn does not anticipate a great deal of trouble from this source in the future. This is encouraging. Most people were afraid that there would be a general upheaval of service mains when the new water came through. Of course the pure, clear, clean fluid must have been a terrible shock to mains accustomed to the Ohio river variety, but we are glad to know that they withstood the jar.

Can't lose the busy Portsmouth man. Here's Doc Waddell to the front as the original "Wife for President" man. And what's more he has written a book to prove it. Should like to be kind and wish to walk up the White House stairs we'll wager that Doc's book will not be far behind.

One of the woes of a successful Ohio politician is that he cannot escape an invitation to entertain a dinner of certain New York and Boston societies. Harding has fallen and Wilis is on the way.

Reading a book of memoirs of one of the members of the court of Louis XIV, of France the other night, we came across a paragraph telling of the grief of the King over the news of the death of one of his sons who had been killed in an assault upon Dixmude, which was held by the Belgian and Prussian forces. So Dixmude has been on the map of Mars for a good many centuries. Looks like the town ought to be set to suit's affairs by this time.

REFUGEE BOAT TORPEDOED, IS STATEMENT

London, Nov. 25, 1914. A. M. The French steamer Admiral Ganteaume, which was sunk October 20 while on her way from Calais to Havre, with a great train of refugees aboard, was the victim of a German torpedo, according to the probability statement issued today. An examination, it is stated, revealed a fragment of the torpedo in a life boat. Though crowded with women and children, only forty lives were lost, the others being rescued. With the foregoing announcement the admiralty furnished a picture of the torpedo fragment, adding that this proves conclusively that the vessel was torpedoed by a German submarine.

It was previously thought that the Admiral Ganteaume had hit a mine.

SCIOTO BRIDGE WORK IS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY; PIERS NEARLY FINISHED

"So satisfactorily is work progressing on the new five-pier bridge that will span the Scioto river that the substructure work should be completed within the next 60 days and possibly sooner with an even break in the weather," said Engineer A. T. B. Somerville Wednesday who has charge of the work.

Two piers have been completed, two more are practically completed and one is 70 per cent completed according to a statement issued Wednesday by Mr. Somerville. The concrete work is being put in by A. J. Martin & Co., and the Lookout Construction company of Chattanooga. It was stated Wednesday that 15,000 cubic yards of concrete will go into the substructure of the bridge and five and one half million pounds of steel will go into the superstructure.

The bridge when completed will be 1450 feet in length, will have a paved and concreted roadway 23 feet in width and will be equipped with a six-foot walk, which will have a crossot yellow floor. This will be the only wood used in the construction of the bridge. Its height will be 45 feet from what is known as a pool or low water stage, this being a government requirement.

Work on the bridge was commenced the last of May 1913 and an effort will be made to complete it in its entirety within the next few months.

"We will begin receiving material for the superstructure the middle of January or not later than February 1," said Mr. Somerville Wednesday. "The material is being made in Pittsburgh, Johnstown, Pa., and Cleveland. As soon as it is turned out in these mills it will be sent to the fabricating plant of the Mt. Vernon Bridge company of Mt. Vernon, O. There it will be placed in such shape that it will be ready to be assembled upon its arrival in Portsmouth.

The detail working plans of the bridge have been completed and approved by Mr. Somerville and he and the county commissioners are well pleased with the headway that the joint contractors, A. J. Martin & Co., and the Lookout Construction company are making.

The work of putting in the west abutment will be taken up shortly. The east abutment will not be put in until later. The bridge work has reached its most interesting stages and hundreds of local people are inspecting it daily. Mr. Somerville feels confident that when ready for formal acceptance the bridge will be flood proof and that it will be able to stand up against the ravages of the turbulent Scioto river.

Original of this is carefully preserved.

At a Woman's Club meeting one afternoon several of the members while putting on their wraps preparatory to leaving discussed a robbery that had recently been committed in the vicinity.

"I always leave my beds unmade and the rooms unmade, when I go away from home for any length of time," said one young matron.

"Why do you do that?" the others inquired.

"Because if a burglar happened to break into the house," the young matron explained, "he would think some other robber had been there before him and ransacked the place and then he might go without bothering it."

OBITUARY

John Brant

News has been received by relatives of the death at Columbus Tuesday afternoon of John Brant who was formerly a prominent resident of Lucasville and of Portsmouth. He passed away at the home occupied by himself and wife at 432½ South High street late in the afternoon. Death being due to a complication of diseases that had incapacitated him for work for the past few years. Owing to the fact that the majority of his nearest relatives now reside in Columbus, the remains will be interred in that city on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Brant was formerly one of the most prominent and wealthiest land owners in Valley township. He owned the farm now owned by John Violet and also a fine farm in the Flat Woods neighborhood. Some years ago he disposed of his property and came to Portsmouth to reside, living for a number of years at Gay street. Six years ago the family removed to Columbus where they have since made their home. Mr. Brant was 68 years of age. He was a nephew of Caleb (Cull) and related to the various branches of the Cull family in this county. Immediate relatives surviving, all of whom reside in Columbus are the widow, who was Miss Laura Wick; Mrs. N. Rosenthal, Mrs. Chas. Schand and Mrs. Charles Taylor, daughters and Caleb Brant, a son.

Many old time friends of Mr. Brant in this county will learn with regret of his death and extend their sympathy to the family. He was a most excellent citizen in every respect.

Daniel Powell
Mrs. J. W. Taylor, of Martinsburg, W. Va., sister of the late Daniel Powell, who died November 20 at the home of his brother-in-law Daniel Mahoney, 1320 High street, arrived too late for the funeral. Mr. Powell came here from Cincinnati very ill, and Mrs. Mahoney notified Mrs. Taylor immediately. She came at once but her brother was dead when she arrived.

Daniel Powell was born in Hagerstown, Md., and was a son of the late James E. Powell, of Martinsburg, W. Va. He is survived by the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. S. S. Moore, Mrs. J. W. Taylor, S. S. Powell, T. V. Powell, all living in West Virginia. Mrs. E. Powell of Maryland and Miss Nellie Powell, of Baltimore, Md.

Funeral Notice
The funeral services of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Hermann will be conducted from the home, 515 Ninth street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. B. B. Cartwright, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, will have charge of the services. Interment will be made in Greenlawn.

The Markets

CHICAGO STOCK EXCHANGE
Chicago, Nov. 25.—The minimum price restriction on practically all stocks traded in on the Chicago stock exchange was reported today. Beginning next Friday trading will be without price restrictions except on such securities as are also listed on the exchange and closed at $15 a share or lower on July 30.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Estimates that the Argentine export sales surplus would be as much as 120,000,000 bushels counted against the bulls today in wheat. There were also reports indicating that the world's winter crop from 1915 would be the largest ever secured. It was said that Italy alone would show an increase of 1,000,000 acres. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/4 to 1/2 lower, were followed by a decided further decline.

Corn eased off with wheat. There was only scattered buying. After starting 1/4 to 1/2 down, quotations underwent a moderate additional sag.

Seaboard demand became active in oats. Transactions, however, were unimportant until after the market had been weakened by the setback of other grain. Provisions tended down grade. Selling pressure was laid chiefly to packers.

Peace rumors had influence in checking buyers and resulted in some stop loss selling, but the market later reacted owing to opinions here that the Argentine surplus would not reach more than 80,000,000 bushels. The close was unsettled at the same as last night to 1/4 to 1/2 lower.

Fine weather and talk of more important rally in corn. The liberal receipts presented any close was steady but 3/4 and 1/2 to 1 and 1/4 lower.

New York, Nov. 25.—Raw sugar firm; molasses, $3.30; centrifugal, $4.04. Refined steady.

COFFEE
New York, Nov. 25.—The New York Coffee Exchange will re-open on Monday November 30. This announcement was made today following a special meeting of the board of managers.

When the exchange re-opens exactly four months will have elapsed since the day of closing. During this period prices have declined 1 1/4 cents per pound for the December position, because of the liquidation of outstanding contracts and the unusual condition arising from the war in Europe.

It was believed that the board at its meeting today would also consider the question of opening the future market for sugar. In this connection, however, nothing was done and the question will come up at a later meeting.

ONIONS FOR EXPORT
New York, Nov. 25.—Heavy purchases here and in Boston within the past few days of onions for export to England, France and Norway have sent the prices from 25 to 40 per cent or from $1 a bag of 100 pounds to $1.25 and $1.40, it was announced today. The demand is chiefly for yellow onions.

The onions for export were purchased in the open market at low prices as the foreign demand was unknown to the growers, it is said.

What Chance Had Poor Turk When Mack Got Started?

"Come here, you big fat rascal, I shore do lub white meat!"

Such was the exclamation of Nathan Mack, colored porter at the Selby shoe company, Wednesday noon, when he was called into the gang-way by the men who work in the McKay and lasting departments and promised a big fat gobble providing he would run it down.

Now Nathan never was suspected of being much of a sprinter, but in the chase for that turkey he most certainly clipped off several seconds from the official record. The turkey, which would have won a prize at any poultry show, was let out of a coup and given a start of ten yards. Then the chase began. It sure did seem as though that turkey knew that if he fell into Nathan's hands he would be a dead bird and he lost no time in getting under headway.

Spurred on by the visions of a big Thanksgiving dinner, Nathan prayed for speed and away the two went. Nathan made a flying tackle, roared up several bricks, but the Turk outwitted him. Again and again Nathan tried to clinch him around the leg, but the Turk was too wise a bird. All at once Nathan, with the perspiration running down his cheeks like an April flood, straightened up and yelled, "Dar's no use in try to escape me, turkey, for I shore am gwin to git you." And "git" him he did. The big gobble tried to work a flying wedge on Nathan, but the good natured darkey ended the chase right then and there. He clinched his legs around that bird and it was feared for a time as though the bird had its life squeezed out. Nathan held aloft his prize and bespoke his acknowledgments to the crowd.

who roared throughout the entire chase.

Then a big basket filled with celery, cranberries, mince meat and other Thanksgiving trimmings were brought out and presented to the porter, who marched for his home in the North End the proudest, happiest man in this land of the free and the home of the brave. Nathan and his family will do justice to that turkey tomorrow.

The charge was preferred by her brother, Joseph Braden, a former Portsmouth resident and a tenant on a farm adjoining the Glover place. Glover was arraigned before Squire Braden at Fullerton Wednesday afternoon, and waived the right to a preliminary examination. He was accordingly bound over to the grand jury on an assault and battery charge in the sum of $200 bond, default of which he will be committed to the Greenup county jail.

Mrs. Glover has also entered an action for divorce against her husband in the Greenup county court, having filed her petition Tuesday afternoon at Greenup. At the present time she is staying with friends in Fullerton.

No evidence was adduced at the hearing Wednesday afternoon. It was reported that Glover followed her to Braden's home, where she took refuge from him, Tuesday afternoon, and demanded admittance to the home at the point of a gun.

When Braden refused him admittance, Glover is alleged to have struck him a telling blow on the cheek, but he was prevented from entering the house by Mrs. Glover's sister, who armed herself with a stick of stove wood and guarded the entrance against Glover's intrusion.

At Fullerton, it was reported Wednesday afternoon that feeling is high against Glover in that neighborhood, and doubt is expressed of his ability to secure bond for his release.

All of the parties are well known in Portsmouth, Braden and his sister having formerly resided here. The former was employed at the Selby shoe factory during his residence in this city. Mrs. Glover, in addition to filing suit for divorce, is suing for alimony and the custody of the three minor children.

Special Program Columbia Tonight
"The Ticket of Leave Man" is the title of a special three reel picture at the Columbia this evening. It is a most beautiful picture of land and sea, made by a select company headed by Miss Eleanor Woodruff, pronounced by many critics as the most beautiful woman in motion pictures today.

In addition to our regular program we will show one reel of pictures taken at the Ohio State University last year during the celebration of their fortieth anniversary. Every person interested in the Ohio State University should see these pictures this evening.

For tomorrow, Thanksgiving Day, a program of unusual merit has been arranged consisting of two reel special picture by the Kulem company entitled "His Inspiration," in which Tom Moore, the husband of Alice Joyce, is featured. In addition to this special picture another of George Ade's famous fables will be shown. This time it is "The Fable of the People's Choice Who Answered the Call To Duty and Took Selser." Don't forget that Friday is "Paramount Day" and another of those most excellent five part pictures will be shown in "What's His Name," featuring Max Flegman and Lolita Robertson. Watch for our announcement Friday on this picture.

Good Shows At The Lyric

Alice Joyce, supported by a splendid company in "The Mystery of the Green Umbrella," a two part feature of unusual merit and "The Cave Dwellers," a Vitagraph novelty, featuring Little Bobby Connolly, the boy star, and a company of his child companions, makes the good show at the Lyric tonight. Both pictures are exceptionally good. The "Kid" picture is something out of the ordinary and is sure to make a big hit.

Tomorrow's Thanksgiving program is a winner also. "An Antique Engagement Ring" from the Vitagraph studio, featuring Dorothy Kelly and James Morrison in one of the prettiest pictures ever made by this great company. It is brimful of splendid acting, a wonderful story of tragedy, love and romance. "The Antique Engagement Ring" is sure to please and impress you. "The Mystery of the Green Umbrella" will be shown tomorrow, too, and this picture is just funny enough to make anyone laugh, so if you need a laugh be sure to see it. Mr. Mack announces a great picture for Saturday in "On The Stroke of Five," featuring that wonderful woman, Naomi Childers, of the Vitagraph company.

Good Bill At Exhibit Thanksgiving
"A Man's Way" is the title of the picture to be shown at the exhibit tonight. For Thanksgiving, Manager Law has secured a gripping western drama entitled "The Rainbow's End." It is a story presented in three parts and produced by Miller Bros., of the 101 Ranch. It is in keeping with the high standard of western pictures shown at the exhibit and makes an ideal Turkey Day offering.

THEATRICAL

Dowey and Rogers in "Safety First"
Tomorrow Halton Powell's production of the big fun festival, "Safety First," will make its initial bid for local favor at the Sun theatre. The engagement is for three nights and usual matinees. The most blues theatre-goer is assured of finding pleasure in the clever work of Earle S. Dowey and Mabel Rogers in this up-to-date music play. This clever team of artists is making the success of their career in this new vehicle. Dowey is seen as "Bud Green," a bull player who impersonates a missionary from Yucatan, while Miss Rogers depicts an eighteen year old Hayden who has never been kissed.

Dowey is given splendid opportunities to display his ability as an eccentric dancer, and his rendition of "Swanee Ripples," assisted by the American Pony Ballet of ten madcap dancers, sets a standard which will be hard to equal.

Halton Powell, the producing manager, prides himself upon the company he has engaged to support Dowey and Rogers in "Safety First." It is positively second to none ever seen at popular prices. Among the well known names are those of Frank Smith, Jane Kermit, Hazel Regan, Larry Fuller, Harry Sharpe, and Lester Dorr. The scenic production is an elaborate one. Thanksgiving matinee at three p. m.

"The Misdemeanor Lady"
"The Misdemeanor Lady," presented at the Sun theatre Tuesday afternoon and evening by a well balanced company, proved to be a clever mixture of comedy and pathos and was enjoyed by two audiences of good size. The play is peculiarly constructed but the dialogue is sparkling and the climaxes are worked up admirably. As a penalty for trifling with a man's affections Helen Steele, (Charlotte Lillard) is kidnapped and bundled away to a bungalow in the Adirondack mountains and which is owned by Jack Craigie (P. B. Hersome). There she is chained down and actually tortured because she indulged in the dangerous practice of being a trifter. The play is worked out smoothly and pleased. F. B. Hersome and Miss Lillard proved themselves to be clever, resourceful actors and carry the burden of making the play a success. Bert D. Melville as "Boney," an escaped lunatic, was splendid, his characterization not being overdrawn.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, enigmas, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly.—Would you please tell me if I am correct? Lately, in talking with people about industrial troubles at the present time, they always blame the present government and President Wilson for the present hard times. I get so provoked I don't know what to do. It isn't true, is it, that President Wilson causes this lack of labor? I told them that the war had the most to do with it. I am an admirer of Mr. Wilson and I just hate to hear people talk that way. Don't you think it shows ignorance and narrow-mindedness for people to say such things?

A. M. G.
Conditions in this country are due to the general disorganization of business caused by the European war. If you can blame Wilson for that war then he is responsible. As business gets adjusted to new conditions things will hum in this country. I look for the most prosperous times in our history in the next few years.

Dear Dolly.—How much money do you think a High School girl should be allowed to spend a week?

HIGH SCHOOL KID.
Her parents should be the judge of her allowance.

A SURE WAY TO END DANDRUFF
Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp—At Once

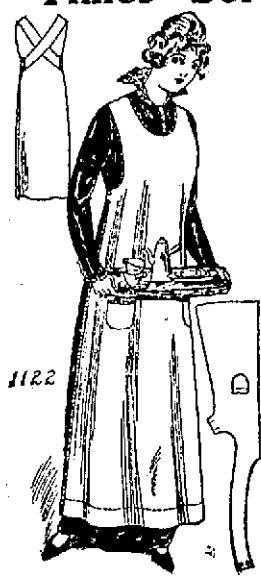

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.

girls past seventeen years and are engaged to be married to two young fellows of twenty in Portsmouth. Do you think we are too young to be married? How is my writing and spelling?

TWO CHUMS.
If you want my advice, I'll say you are too young. Girls of 17 know nothing about the responsibilities of married life. Parents are very unwise to permit daughters of that age to get steady company, much less to marry. Your writing is not bad, but you can't spell very well.

Miss Wise.—Would you please give me a recipe for preparing sage tea and sulphur hair tonic at home, and oblige.

MR. GETTING GRAY.
You can get it all ready prepared about as cheap as you can make it at home and then you won't mess up your wife's kitchen. If you had all the sage tea in the country it would keep your hair from turning gray once it gets started in that direction. I think gray hair is beautiful, myself and would advise you to let your hair alone. However, if you are ashamed of gray locks, the only thing to do is to dye it.

Dear Dolly.—Why do boys prefer fickle girls to nice sensible ones? I go to High School and think I am quite sensible, but the boys don't seem to pay any attention to me. They just hang around the silly, mushy ones.

UNPOPULAR JUNIOR.
Don't bother your head about such things. Juniors at High School should be busy with their lessons instead of trying to capture a beau. When you get older and meet sensible men you will find some one to appreciate your good sense.

Miss Dolly Wise.—How may one learn to exercise tact? What is the weight of the normal girl of fourteen? Please give me a list of exercises for relaxation, also tell me what one should or should not eat in order to reduce? How long should a girl of fourteen wear her dresses?

PEGGY.
I had all I know about tact in this column last week. If you have forgotten it in a noon, look it up. I can't publish the same thing over and over again. Anywhere from 100 to 110 pounds. Dieting and exercising are the only ways to reduce flesh. If you are inclined to be fat you can reduce if you are Spartan enough to go without things you like. Candy, potatoes and other starchy foods must be avoided. I know a girl that reduced her weight twenty pounds by eating only one meal a day. Hers was an extreme case and required extreme measures. Wear your dresses a little above your shoe tops. If you study your lessons every evening you won't have much time to read novels.

Dear Dolly.—We are several school girls and we would like to know the meaning of the word snob. I think we have several in our class, but we really don't know how to define the word. I believe you used the word not long ago.

THE GIRLS.
The most satisfactory definition I have found is "one who vulgarly upes gentility." One dictionary gives this among a dozen others. The word was brought into general use by Thackeray in his "Book of Snobs." He may, then, be ranked as a prime authority. He says: "He who meanly admires a mean thing is a snob." Tennyson hits off the snob aptly. "Brought to common men, but hounding to the whisper of a lord."

Yet I think we may fall back upon the definition given by the American Lexicographer as most succinct and expressive.

Portsmouth, O., Nov. 23, 1914.—Miss Dolly Wise.—I see by one of your letters in The Times where you gave a laboring man advice to go out and get a job and he would not be looking for soup houses. Now don't make fun of the man for he might need help to get a job. If you will put a notice in The Times where the laboring man can get a job you will be doing a great thing for the city of Portsmouth.

WORKING MAN.
I can't say just where the jobs are, but any man who wants work real bad and hustles around will find it all right. It might not be a big paying steady position, but sometimes a man who does odd jobs here and there makes as much as those who work staidly. There is one thing sure you will never get anything unless you get out and hustle. There is always work for those who want work.

Toronto, Saturday Night, Nov. 8, 1914.—Cecil Fanning is one of the most interesting artists now before the public. To the professional musical critic, initiated with numbers that he hears a dozen times in the course of a season, the variety and range of Mr. Fanning's program is a delight. At his recent recital given here he sang many lyrics of rare musical appeal which have not become shop wares. From the purely vocal standpoint, considered apart from his interpretative powers, he is exceptionally gifted. His voice is one of notable range and beauty. It is exquisitely produced with a mastery of resource in all matters of accent and phrasing, and he gives a constant impression of dramatic intelligence. Not only the accompaniments, but the explanatory remarks of H. B. Turpin, Fanning's solo teacher, greatly augmented the interest of the recital.

Toronto, Saturday Night, Nov. 8, 1914.—Cecil Fanning is one of the most interesting artists now before the public. To the professional musical critic, initiated with numbers that he hears a dozen times in the course of a season, the variety and range of Mr. Fanning's program is a delight. At his recent recital given here he sang many lyrics of rare musical appeal which have not become shop wares. From the purely vocal standpoint, considered apart from his interpretative powers, he is exceptionally gifted. His voice is one of notable range and beauty. It is exquisitely produced with a mastery of resource in all matters of accent and phrasing, and he gives a constant impression of dramatic intelligence. Not only the accompaniments, but the explanatory remarks of H. B. Turpin, Fanning's solo teacher, greatly augmented the interest of the recital.

"GIVE YOUR USUAL XMAS PRESENTS," SAYS THE SUN

In its issue of last Sunday the Sun (New York) said editorially:

"Do not think of cutting down merely according to your means. If your heart is heavy for the agonized peoples of Europe you need not be frivolous in giving. But whether the giving is joyous or in the minor key, there never was a Christmas when the obligation to give was more pressing."

"The proposal to cut off Christmas presents grows out of that well meaning but mistaken view of life which dwells so much on the superficially practical side that it is blind to all the practical considerations underlying the mainly graceful or decorative aspects of life. A general contraction of Christmas present making this year would unquestionably have far reaching disastrous effects."

"It would mean to manufacturers and jobbers heavy unsold stocks; to retailers it would mean shrinkage of trade and disappearance of profits; to the transportation interests it would mean the loss of regular annual business; to the wage workers it would mean wide-spread lack of employment. With many out of work in this city at present it is pitiful to think of the eagerness with which some thousands of men and women must look forward to the Christmas Bury as a hope for earning a few days' pay. How much more pitiful would it be if this hope were defeated."

"Wise givers will naturally adapt their Christmas remembrances in this troubled year to the prevailing temper. Utilitarian considerations will be likely to guide them to an unusual extent. But it is to be hoped that the inspired trifle will not be entirely dropped out of currency. The pretty card with genuine good will behind its conventional wishes, the foolish bit of linen or unnecessary house ornament that expresses a sympathetic thought, the sparkling stone which is ultra-precious because of the sentiment it betokens, will serve not only to warm the festival of peace with some of its accustomed glow, but further—and here let the practical folk take heed—the money spent on them filtering back over the counter through the channels of trade to the starting place of the toy or its materials, will help in some degree, great or little, a long line of anxious capitalists and workers, great and small, to weather hard times."

"It is the genial privilege and joyous duty of all to relax their pursestrings this year for Christmas presents just so far as prudence will allow."

ELDERLY PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE VINOL

Aged Texas Woman Says: "Old People Who Are Weak and Feeble Should Know the Merits of Vinol."

Grand Saline, Texas.—"I am an aged woman and for a long time was weak and feeble, but I have found Vinol to be the best medicine to create strength for old people and for chronic colds I have ever taken. It has restored my health and strength so that I feel almost young again; in fact, I am now doing all my own housework."

"Old people who are weak and feeble should try Vinol and know its merits as I do. I have proved Vinol a good reliable medicine and much cheaper than paying doctor's bills, and you may publish what I say about Vinol for the benefit of others."—Mrs. FANNIE E. BOWMAN, Grand Saline, Texas.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, sharpens the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood, building up natural strength and energy.

We have seen such splendid results from its use that we return the money in every case where Vinol fails to build up and strengthen feeble old people, delicate children and the weak, nervous, run-down and debilitated, or asthmatic chronic colds, coughs or bronchitis.

RUNABOUT WRECKED

A runabout belonging to J. A. McClay, a Piquette farmer, was wrecked in a collision with an eastbound street car in front of the Wells-Pargo express office Wednesday morning. McClay had left his horse and rig unattended while he stepped into the Southern express office. The colt became frightened and tried to crowd past an express wagon when side-swiped by the car. The animal was knocked down but only slightly hurt.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a sign you have been eating too much meat, which forms uric acid.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and weary. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, by moving all the body's urinous waste, also you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, clapsots often get sore, water inside and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get your pharmacist about four ounces of Kid Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the seed of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Kid Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effective lithin-water.

TO AVOID CATARRH OR BREAK UP A COLD

Use Hyomei a Simple Remedy that Instantly Relieves

At the first symptom of catarrh, such as sniffles, fits of sneezing, itching of the nose, or that choked-up feeling, surely take immediate steps to conquer the disease. Catarrh is not only distressing, unpleasant and annoying, but a serious ailment.

One of the easiest and simplest remedies to check catarrh and break up a cold is Hyomei. Just put a few drops of this simple and healing liquid into a small inhaler that comes with every complete outfit, and breathe it. This medicated air immediately soothes the inflamed tissues, and effectively drives out the poison. Just a few minutes use of this most helpful remedy opens the stuffed air passages, clears the head and throat of the mucous discharges—you breathe freely and immediately feel better.

Hyomei is so certain to relieve and give lasting benefit that Wurster Bros. sell it on the "No-cure-no-pay" plan.

Four Stars of Army Football Team Who Have Hope to Beat the Navy

TO TAKE UP FOOTBALL

Columbia, one of the largest colleges in the east will probably take up football again after discarding the rough game for four years. The students are clamoring for it and the college needs a little wholesome publicity, which it is sure to get through the channels of football.

PRESIDENT TENER MUST SHOW HIS HAND

It is now up to Governor Tener to show his executive ability in handling the muddled affairs of the National league.

There is no getting away from the fact that the reappearance of Charley Murphy in the rays of the sporting catchlight has stirred up an ugly mess in the old league, and something will have to be done before the opening of the season.

It is no easy matter to see how the National league is going to get rid of a man who, according to the drop, controls both the Cubs and Phillies, but if the league wants to retain any part of its prestige some kind of a move will have to be made. And this time convincing action is in order. Before the opening of the 1915 season it was announced Murphy was out of the game and various magnates and club presidents congratulated themselves in the public prints. Now it develops Murphy was only taking a rest, which shows the magnates in a poor light.

COWDY TELLS CINCINNATI FANS HOW IT WAS DONE

Hero Hankirino Cowdy has been in Cincinnati for several days attending a few minor affairs like box parties and receptions and has been accorded a personal ovation while in the Queen City. Relative to Hank's visit a Cincinnati paper chortles thusly:

Hank Cowdy, who had intended to return to Columbus Tuesday changed his mind, as he found local hospitality almost irresistible. The world's series hero spent the day visiting the scenes of his boyhood, the happy times when he was just a carefree lad, and nobody had ever asked him to play in vaudeville. "Tell you when we became thoroughly confident that we would be the world's series winners," he said. "Right after that set of three straight games, on the Polo grounds, where we broke the Giants' backs and put them out of the running. Of course, we were already confident that we would win the National league flag, but those three games made us feel sure of the series with the Athletics. We had caught the Giants at their best, with all their stars in good shape, and no chance for an allibi. We had beaten them in their own grounds, three in a row. Well, when we thought it over, we saw that we had whipped New York, in perfect condition, more impressively than the Athletics had done when they caught the Giants as a badly crippled team. That made us look to ourselves anyhow, like a better club than the Athletics, and I think the blackness felt that way, too," concludes Cowdy who bats .600 in the club league.

To Trade Sweeney

Bill Sweeney, the pride of Newport, Ky., is all through as a Cub, according to statements from Chicago. The second baseman slowed up so much, both on the bases and in field play, that he made a sad-looking record last summer, and Roger Bresnahan—so say the Chicago papers—has about decided to try Arthur Phenix as the regular second sacker.

And two years ago Cincinnati offered Boston $45,000 for Sweeney.

Portsmouth High Winds Up Season With Columbus Team

The football game for Thanksgiving day between South High of Columbus and the Red and Blue eleven of Portsmouth High promises to be one of the best football battles ever staged on a local gridiron, all Turkey Day games of previous years being included.

Coach Hart has infused the local gridblers with that fighting spirit that always brings home the bacon. The modest lads from the Capital City will prove a big stumbling block in the pathway of the locals, but Portsmouth High's pluckier classes are counting on showing aside the barrier and sweep down the field victoriously.

On the other hand, if the game is not won it will not be any fault of Coach Hart who has tried and worked successfully every play known to him in college football. The question of weight should be of little consequence as the Columbus boys are touted as being small but fast. If they have a single player that can keep up with "Casey" James P. H. S. is ready to hand them the game. "There has not been a game played this season by Portsmouth where an opposing player could hold a match to 'Casey' who sets the pace after with his lightning speed.

Portsmouth's line which gave away before the heavy onslaught of the Huntington players last Saturday has been strengthened and should be able to break up any line plays attempted by the visitors. Mostler will more than likely get back into the game at right guard although Sprecker who has been filling the place has made a very favorable impression on Coach Hart and might get to play the whole game. In the place of Mostler, Very little improvement can be made on the work of the ends, Swishhelm and Brande while the tackles, Quinn and Drexell can always be counted on to do their work, no matter how like their man is. Test will be on center while Hore who has been out on account of injuries will probably be back on right guard. Captain neck will run the team from the fullback position.

Hopkins or Horchow will alternate at quarters. Each one of the players has pledged his word to do his best to secure a victory.

One of the largest crowds that ever paid to see a Thanksgiving game in the city is expected on hand to witness the most important game of the season and Portsmouth's High School's last game of the year. All the students are going to be out with their ribbons and pennants of red and blue. It is the duty of every high school pupil to be present on the sidelines Thursday to encourage the Red and Blue athletics on to an overwhelming victory. The locals are put to a great expense in bringing the Columbus team to the city and it is up to the lovers of the gridiron sport to turn out and help the boys. Buy a ticket and give it to a friend if you are not going.

PEER OF ALL RECEIVERS ANXIOUS TO RETURN TO DEAR OLD REDLEGS

Kansas City, Nov. 24.—The story that after a year's absence from the base ball diamond, John Kling wants to be sent back to bat for the Redlegs in 1915, is correct. Kling, who was with the Redlegs in 1913, is now on his way to New York to play with the Yankees. Kling is now on his way to New York to play with the Yankees. Kling is now on his way to New York to play with the Yankees.

to play ball again," continued Kling, "and I want to play with the Redlegs next season. I had enough rest this summer to last me several years, and from now on I am going to play ball until they run me out of the big leagues. I know that I am not as good as I used to be, but yet I believe I can stick in the big show for couple more seasons."

MERRY WAR COMING

Indications from the east point to a merry little struggle there next season. Plans are afoot for the transfer of the Baltimore and Jersey City International league teams. The former will go either to Syracuse, N. Y., or Baltimore, Md. The latter is booked for Ebber's field in Brooklyn. Such a move would leave the Reds in undisputed possession of Baltimore, but would rather congest things in Brooklyn.

OPPOSED TO PRUNING

John McGraw is lately opposed to the American league plan to cut down the player limit to 20 or 25 men. The giant leader points out that not only would the player be the loser, but the club owner would suffer as well. The magnates generally put out a good sum for athletes, and if they suddenly find themselves forced to get rid of their excess talent they will be just that much money out.

George Wittke, the veteran Giant pitcher, may become manager of the Syracuse team next year. Syracuse is Wittke's home town, and a plan is already started to land him the position.

HAS HOPES FOR ZIMMERMAN

George Stallings thinks Heinie Zimmerman is the greatest ball player of the age. The never will show it," says George, "until he curbs his temper. Some day he is going to succeed and he'll land at the top."

STAY CUT SHORT

The Detroit Tigers, like the Cubs, have cut their spring training trip short by two weeks. The action market is sluggish, as the south is overstocked with the flaky material and the major league magnates will not accept it in lieu of currency.

EICHENLAUB MENTIONED

Many critics of the east and west scolded the great fullback of the Notre Dame eleven on their All American teams last year and it is likely he will be picked by many this season. At the start of the year he was handicapped by an injured knee, but he has played great ball in his recent games. In the Yale game, though badly crippled, he repeatedly tore holes in the New Haven line and engineered several sensational runs.

Games Friday Night

Spiders vs. Corn Shuckers, alleys 4 and 5.

Bald Eagles vs. Clod Hoppers, alleys 2 and 3.

With fun lapping the running boards like the surf of the Atlantic ocean and with more merriment on top than you'll find at a dozen clown conventions, the two leaders in the Masonic Bowling League, ie, Giant Killers and Ivory Knobs simply wiped up the earth with their adversaries, the Cement Specials and the Rexalls at the Play House alleys, Tuesday evening, a large crowd being present and helping to make the well-kept ring with their shouts of approval and derision.

The Giants and Specials staged their conflict on alleys 4 and 5 and the former simply ran away from their alleged opponents, who seem to have deteriorated into a bunch of has-beens or never-wasers. In fact, at no stage of either of the three games did the Creveling Six have as much chance as so many mice in a trap. They were outgunned, out-lucked and out-played from bullion to salted almonds, and really looked as though they would have been duck soup for the Corn Shuckers or Clod Hoppers. Their four well-advertised stars, namely Horv, Spencer, Lloyd and Creveling rolled like freemen and all this despite the fact that Jim Hagar and George Freund upheld their end of the putting. Probably that statement is a little hard on Lloyd and Creveling. They did not do so worse at that and probably were inoculated with the weak sister efforts of the feed man and molar extractor, who previous to the games rolled scores well up in the 200 circle. Captain Creveling has asked for waivers on Horv and Spencer, and all captains have passed 'em up like a pay ear does a tramp. It is thought, now that these two worthies have found that it will be impossible for them to break into any other line-up they will get down to business and hammer seven kind of languages out of the tall ash. They can do it—sometimes, but not always. It is now likely that Spencer will be traded to the Spiders for Wade Kennedy, and Horv thrown in as extra ballast. Captain Creveling has made that kind of a proposition to Captain Nodder of the Spiders who has taken the same under advisement. In the second game when Hagar rattled the wood for 132 and Spencer crumbled the pins for 120, the games were stopped and every player in the league walked over to Hagar and congratulated him upon his splendid effort. Spencer was game and added his hand shake and a nuzzle. Hagar wore his well-earned honors with the dignity, becoming a champion and then proceeded to roll an even 100. George Freund did not make much fuss, but averaged over 100 and that is one of his greatest ambitions of life.

The Giant Killers were there in forty ways from the jack, breaking all records for the league, every one of their games being over the 900 mark. Their first game was 964 and this mark will probably stand for some time and is a great one to shoot at. Lemon encountered some rough traveling, he and Ross running into a heavy of splits and keeping their work sort of run-down at the hotel. However, whenever Captain Sheridan called for something a little extra, these two worthies responded nobly and with considerable cheerfulness. Charley Daehler achieved one of his life's ambitions, when he rolled a 293 score, getting that great total in the sandwich game. A split in the last frame kept him from gathering the biggest score of the evening, but that didn't make a bit of difference to the popular furniture man. Ed Riekey looked like a million dollars last night, spilling the timbers for 181 in his first game and coming back strong with 158 in No. 3. He will prove to be the Hank Gaway of the league before the bell taps and Captain Sheridan has been approached by practically every captain in the league who desires Riekey's services. Let it be stated right here that Riekey has been signed up to a three year, iron-clad contract and that no captain has a trade that would be considered for a second. George Wilhelm was in his element as a Giant last night and lived right up to his title. He barely missed the charmed circle in his opening game, running into a split in the last frame and finishing with 193. Captain Sheridan peep, peep in a peck-a-boo fashion at his scores.

On to alleys 2 and 3, the Ivory Knobs treated the Rexalls to three clean beatings, despite the wonderful work of the Rexall's captain, George Wurster, who went like a prairie fire in all his games. Always consistent, Orville Sprague, lead off man for the Ivory Knobs was the personification of that term. Orville couldn't get out of the 140 circle to save his hair from falling out. Raymond York was just fair, hanging up ten splits on good hits—of course, they were good hits. Bill Zollman, president of the league and a loyal member of the Ivory Knobs, was there with the bells on, gathering 157 and 177. He also made 118, but his admirers are little apt to overlook that little slip up when comparing Bill's records and achievements.

W. E. Clayton was there with his hook and it did fairly decent execution when it behaved. The trouble with the hook is that it goes on a rampage sometimes and when it does that the pins are in no more danger than a gold watch in ice. Ex-Mayor Fred N. Tynes clipped along quite merrily thank you, while Dr. Perry Winkler Young loomed up like a light house in a fog off Cape Hatteras. He had the supreme satisfaction of totalling 219 and has already had the score framed.

As stated before, Captain Geo. Wurster was a pretty loud noise for the Rexalls, but he was not quite equal to the emergency of carrying the whole load. Bradford rolled the first game and was replaced by Dr. Keyes who was in mid-season form—you know what that means. Baker was an in and outer, mostly outer, rolling below the 100 mark in his last two games. Walter Schuyler was good and bad in spots, his second game spoiling a good average. John Wilhelm was a bear at times and was then so docile he would lay down and roll over. At that his scores are much better than those of some alleged stars and he is not all displeased with his showing. Pearl Cranston was the team's best best outside of the work of Captain Wurster. Pearl fell down a little in his second game, but had the other members of the team done equally as well as he, the Rexalls would have taken at least two out of three. The scores:

Baggan will remain in Portsmouth until the first of the year, and may spend the winter here, unless Mr. Tyler goes into business in some other city. He is being cordially greeted by his legion of friends, who admire his prowess on the ball field and his gentlemanly manner off the field.

Joe had gathered up some old clothes and given them to the woman just shortly before Gray appeared.

HOLLIDAY BOUND OVER TO THE GRAND JURY

Harry Holliday's request that he be privately arraigned was granted by the mayor and the young man was brought in just before the opening of the regular session of court, Wednesday. He pleaded guilty to burglary and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500. Clean-cut looking, well-mannered and sensible, the young man favorably impresses everybody who has seen him and much as police officials feel gratified over his capture, they now pity him.

Holliday has added but little to his original statements concerning the Turkey building robberies. He said he and "Bud" Applegate and "Snake" Carver played pool at the Charles Berry place until closing time Saturday night. They had purchased a couple half pints of whiskey and had been drinking freely.

Carver and Applegate, he said, must have previously planned the robbery, Carver leading the way through the alley. Applegate stood guard outside, while Carver removed the iron grating and told him (Holliday) to follow. Holliday says he himself took only one quart of whiskey found in the Went-U-Well shoe store and sat down in the doorway connecting this store with the Liberty clothing store while Carver helped himself to a pair of pants in the latter place.

Holliday clings to his first story that this one pair of trousers and two bottles of whiskey comprised the loot.

Carver and Applegate are still at large and relatives express the belief that they are safely on their way West. Applegate returned here from California only two weeks ago, coming expressly to meet Carver, who was but recently released from the Mansfield reformatory, where he served time for alleged shooting a policeman in Columbus two years ago. They had been associates in the past. Applegate and his wife have been parted for over a year.

Testimony Conflicts; Judge Deliberates

After a partial hearing of the divorce case of Susanna Kall in common pleas court Wednesday morning, Judge James S. Thomas continued the case for further evidence. The wife is seeking divorce on the grounds of adultery and habitual drunkenness, and also asks to be restored to her maiden name of Susanna Lory.

The couple have been separated since last April. Kall is employed as manager of the Gardiner grocery store, corner Ninth and Chillicothe streets. Conflicting testimony was offered by both sides relative to the extent of the husband's drinking, which caused the court to suspend judgment. Miller and Micklethwait are counsel for plaintiff, while the husband is represented by Attorneys Milner, Miller and Seal.

Suit Dismissed

Two divorce cases, Curtis Smith against Ruth E. Smith, and Addie T. Brown against John H. Brown, were dismissed from the common pleas court Tuesday morning. The former couple have reached an amicable settlement of their differences out of court, while the death of the plaintiff in the Brown case several days ago brought that issue to a close. Attorney George W. Sheppard represented the plaintiff in each case.

Geo. Smith Takes Applegate's Place

George Smith, a son of Grover Sime Smith, of Ninth street, was appointed to the vacancy in the city fire department created by the resignation of Alonzo Applegate.

Smith did substitute duty during the vacation period last summer and was on the eligible list. He was assigned to the 11th fire engine house while Thomas Jefferson was transferred to the Seventh street engine company as reel driver. Applegate gave up his position Tuesday evening, retiring with the best wishes of his fellow firemen.

Wants Boys Kept Out

The mayor has called upon the publishers of local newspapers to stop newswomen from entering saloons to sell their paper. He contends that the practice has a tendency to make them tardy in their attendance at school and brings them in contact with conditions not conducive to good morals.

Back To Farm

Alonzo Nunley has resigned his job with the Stockham company and has left for Howland, Ky., where he will enjoy a long hunt. He owns a farm and will become a stranger.

TWO FIRES RAGE IN THE NORTH END OF CITY: VICTIMS HAD TO FLEE IN NIGHT CLOTHES

PROPERTY LOSS IS PLACED AT $12,000; SICK MAN IN PERIL

Two fires, raging within three squares of each other between 5 and 6 o'clock Wednesday morning, caused property loss in the North End of the city, conservatively estimated at $12,000.

The first fire, reported in at 5:07 o'clock, practically destroyed the fixtures and stock of Millard Moore's grocery store on Union street, in the rear of 1235 Twelfth street, causing a property loss of $1,000, $600 of which is covered by insurance. Appearances indicate that the fire started from a gas stove, but the proprietor claims that the stove was not lighted when he closed Tuesday evening.

Hotel Building Burns

The second fire, alarm for which was turned in at 5:13 o'clock, completely destroyed the two frame one-story buildings at 1152-1154 Tenth street, opposite the N. & W. depot, owned by Mrs. Sarah S. Cook, of 1149 Eleventh, occupied by the Simpson hotel and restaurant, and badly damaged the two story frame residence of Joseph Dill at 1158 Tenth street, the loss aggregating between $10,000 and $11,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Guests of the Simpson sleeping apartments, where the fire is supposed to have started, fled in their night clothes, but all got out in plenty of time. All of them lost the major portion of their personal effects in the fire, while the hotel and restaurant furniture and fixtures are a total loss.

Sick Man Carried Out

Joseph Dill, who has been lying at the point of death for the past few days, a victim of tuberculosis, was carried out of his home on a bed before the flames reached the house, and removed to the N. & W. depot. He was later taken to the Hampstead hospital in an ambulance, where his condition was reported grave Wednesday morning.

The East End and Hilltop companies had just arrived at the Union street fire when the later alarm was sounded. Chief McIntosh dispatched the East End company to the Tenth street fire, while the Hilltop company was left to fight the smaller blaze. They accomplished the task with little difficulty, extinguishing the fire with but little damage to the building. The stock and fixtures, however, were ruined by smoke restaurant located in the east building. He hurriedly aroused the Simpson family and the guests, all of whom hurried to places of safety, leaving the bulk of their personal effects to the mercy of the flames.

Sleeping in the two buildings at the time were Mrs. Agnes Simpson, the owner of the restaurant, Ralph Simpson, her son, Mr. and Mrs. Eph Conklin, employees, and Frank Willis, Chris Higgins, and Frank Schoonover, guests.

The flames spread with such headway that it was impossible to save any of the furniture or fixtures, of either building. Approximately $10 in cash in the cash drawer and some valuable papers were also destroyed. Morgan lost all of his clothing, and had to borrow a coat and hat from friends after the fire. Willis lost a $16 overcoat and a pair of shoes, while the others lost different articles of wearing apparel. Mrs. Simpson estimated her loss at $750, with no insurance.

Dill's Furniture Is Saved

Practically all of the furniture and household effects of the Dill family were removed from the house before the blaze reached it. The second story was almost completely gutted by the flames, while the lower floor was badly damaged by smoke and water. The loss is about $2000, partially covered by insurance.

Mrs. Cook A Big Loser

Mrs. Sarah S. Cook, of 1149 Eleventh street, owner of the buildings in which the hotel and restaurant were located, estimated her loss Wednesday morning at $7500, only a small part of which is covered by insurance. The buildings are a total loss.

The firemen did heroic work, checking the path of the flames in either direction, and preventing a spread of the blaze to the burns and outbuildings in the rear of the burned buildings, which were unharmed. Property on Ninth street would have been in grave danger had the fire spread in that direction.

More Buildings Threatened

Other buildings threatened for a time were the two-story frame buildings of C. P. Cook, each occupied with a restaurant, just east of the Dill residence, and the Harris hotel building adjoining those buildings on the east. None of the three were damaged in the least.

Landlord A. S. Turner of the Harris House awakened his guests but advised them that there was no immediate danger, and a party was averted, notwithstanding that the hotel was crowded.

W. J. McCrecken, who resides just west of the Cook building at 1160 Tenth street, moved all of his belongings out of the house, but that precaution proved unnecessary, as there was no spread of the flames in that direction.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dill, colored, parents of Joseph Dill, with whom they make their home, took charge of their personal belongings and furnished them with a place to stay. Their home will have to undergo extensive repairs before it is ready for occupancy again.

Will Probe Into Fire

Chief McQuinn visited the two fires Wednesday morning, and made notes of the damage done. He intimated that both fires will be investigated by the deputy state fire marshal now in the city.

A report was current in the North End Wednesday morning that the Tenth street fire was caused by one of the Simpson hotel guests dropping a lighted cigarette on the carpeted floor, but Tom Morgan, in charge of the fire but himself awake in the house when the fire broke out.

Newsie Was On The Job

It developed later Wednesday morning that the Union street fire was discovered by James Stinehart, a young newsboy, who noticed the blaze in the Moore grocery while making his morning route. He turned in the alarm from Box 51, corner Twelfth and Offshore streets.

Sparks from the Tenth street fire ignited the roof of Don Jewell's residence on Eleventh street above Offshore, but Jewell and two of his neighbors put out the blaze with but little damage. Jewell is employed at the U. S. Laundry.

SCIOTO COUNTY BOY DROWNS AT VEVAY

News of the tragic death which befell Ernest E. Smith, aged 24, who fell in the Ohio river and was drowned near Vevay, Ind., has been conveyed to Sheridan and Kirke, builders of the government dam No. 31, located three miles west of Portsmouth. Smith, who was a son of Charles E. Smith, a farmer who resides near Sedan, Morgan township, Scioto county, slipped off a barge and was drowned. There were no eye witnesses to the drowning.

Smith was last seen at 6 o'clock Friday night, November 20. His body has not been recovered.

Charles E. Smith, father of the victim, left Monday for Vevay to assist in the search being made for his son's body. Smith had not worked on the local dam, but when an employee meets a tragic death all dam builders are officially notified of the affair, it was stated at the local dam Wednesday.

The theory is advanced that Smith slipped off a barge and fell to his death in the Ohio as he was in the habit of walking across several barges on his way to the offices of the firm building the dam at Vevay.
